

F A I R

IN THE

Parish-Building of St. Clement's Church,

CORNER OF TWENTIETH AND CHERRY STREETS,

PHILADELPHIA.

The Fair will open on Wednesday evening, December 13th, and will continue until the next Saturday evening.

The PARISH-BUILDING is a large structure which has just been erected in the rear of the church, of the same material (Connecticut brown stone) and in unison with its style of architecture. The interior is being rapidly finished, and will soon be ready for occupation.

The Fair will afford an opportunity to visit one of the most perfectly arranged buildings ever connected with a church. Its apartments are on the most ample scale, and provide for every form of Christian benevolence and work.

The Sunday-school Room is as large as an ordinary church, with a high open roof sustained, like that of the church, by "semicircular braced rafters of great massiveness and strength." The rooms below are very spacious, and are designed for the Parish Assembly Room or Library, the Sewing Society, Sewing School, the Infant School, Bible Classes, and all other parochial organizations.

The Congregation desire to raise a sufficient amount to furnish each apartment appropriately, and prefer to have recourse to a Fair, as that which may not only secure all that is required, but engage also the most general interest and personal activity. An energetic effort and generous co-operation will place the building in their hands thoroughly equipped for the large parochial work which is before them.

Contributions are earnestly solicited in the form of money, refreshments, donations of books, loans of works of art, gifts of flowers, fancy articles, material of any available kind, or the purchase and sale of tickets.

Tickets for the Fair, Twenty-five cents.

Contributions, &c., may be sent to any of the undersigned.

The Right Reverend
The Bishop of Milwaukee will ordain to the Sacred Priesthood

The Reverend
William Ivan Edwards

First Mass

In Saint Clement's Church
Friday, July the nineteenth
St. Vincent de Paul at seven a. m.

TO THE PARISHIONERS OF ST. CLEMENT'S CHURCH:

That part of Philadelphia, of which St. Clement's Church may be said to be the center, is in process of transformation. The Parkway on the north, crowned by the great Art Museum, is an accomplished fact and flanked by the Free Library and the Rodin Museum will in time be a monumental Boulevard. Pennsylvania Boulevard, paralleling Arch Street to the south, will, also, when completed, be another notable concourse.

As part of this development Twentieth Street is to be widened from 50 feet to 90, so that in time it, too, will be an imposing thoroughfare.

This widening of Twentieth Street presented a serious problem to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of the Parish. Here was a historic Church, known among Churchmen throughout the length and breadth of the land, a shrine for Anglo-Catholics from those abroad as well as at home, face to face with possible destruction or removal. What could be done? After a careful study of the problem with the Vestry's Committee (Messrs. Sheldon P. Ritter, George Lewis Mayer and Clinton Rogers Woodruff), our architects, Horace Wells Sellers of our own Vestry, and John Penn Brock Sinkler, members of whose family have been in times past, as well as at present, closely associated with the parish, advised us that the building could be physically moved back the 40 feet with comparatively little interruption to the services and the life of the parish.

Assured of this by the architects, the next question was the acquisition of the necessary land to the west of the present group of buildings, the Church, the Parish House and the Priests' House. This was no easy task to face. Those who owned the two properties needed knew of our necessity and of the increased values of real estate that would result from the neighborhood's transformation and sought to realize for themselves the benefits accruing from the improvements. The two properties, 2028 and 2030 Cherry Street, each 18 x 114, running through to Appletree Street, were finally purchased for $35,000 apiece, thus making it possible to move the plant back a distance of 36 feet. Four feet will have to be taken off of the rear of the Parish and Priests' Houses, necessitating a rearrangement of St. John's Chapel.

The ordinance opening Twentieth Street has been passed and approved by the Mayor and the Church has received the formal legal notice to remove. Accordingly the architects prepared the necessary specifications for the work to be done and a contract has been let to H. H. Burrell & Company, of Philadelphia; for the sum of $141,800. The various fees, the insurance premiums and other incidental expenses will bring the total needed for the completion of the work to nearly $160,000. This latter figure is approximate, but Mr. Ritter assures us that they are very close to what will be actually needed.

This action of the city gives to the Corporation a claim for damages, which is being prosecuted by Glenn C. Mead, Esq. (a classmate at Harvard of Bishop Rhinelander), who advises us that the necessary plans and blue prints have been prepared for the Board of View and that there will be a hearing by the jury of view on May 1 to enable us to prove title, as it is technically called. It is Mr. Mead's desire, as it is ours, to prosecute this claim as speedily as possible, but of course no one can definitely state when the award will actually be made. One of the favorable features of the situation is that the city has the money to cover the expense of widening Twentieth Street out of a municipal loan of $3,000,000 negotiated in connection with the Pennsylvania Railroad improvements.

The claim of St. Clement's against the City will be for the depreciation of its property resulting from the taking of a piece of ground 114 feet on Twentieth Street and 40 feet on Cherry and Appletree Streets, a total of 4560 square feet.

So far ordinances widening Twentieth Street between Market and Arch have been passed and also for the southwest corner of Twentieth and Race to a distance of 78 feet. So far as we are informed only one award of damages has actually been made, that for the southwest corner of Twentieth and Race.

Mr. Mead also advised us that we have a claim for the cost of removing the building 40 feet from its present position, i. e., for the land plus the cost of moving. Of course no one can, at this time, prophesy what the actual award will be, but our interests will be adequately presented and protected by Mr. Mead, who is a road jury expert of long experience.

These are the developments to date. During the next few months, say until October, we will be more or less inconvenienced by the preliminary preparations for the actual removal. These involve the digging of trenches and of new foundations and innumerable details too many to mention in a brief article. The actual time required for moving the building back will be short but the preliminary steps are numerous, complicated and troublesome, and patience will have to be exercised by all of us. In the end, however, we hope to have a renewed St. Clement's, in a strategic position prepared to do an even greater work for the glory of God and the service of man.

DEAR FRIENDS:—

Next Sunday is the great culminating Feast of the Church Year—Pentecost. It is often called the “Birthday of the Church.” On this day our thoughts turn to the One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church rather than to our Parish or the Diocese in which we live. It is quite distinctly a “Missionary Sunday,” when we are eager to help with the fulfillment of our Lord’s command to “preach the Gospel to every creature.” We have received the Catholic Faith through the missionary efforts of others. We must do our part now to share with others that which we have received so generously.

This means, first of all, through our prayers. You should be preparing for the Whitsun Feast by keeping the Novena of Prayer for the conversion of the world and for the Reunion of Christendom. Then you must prepare for your Communion on the Church’s “Birthday.” And then your gift—not for your Parish this time, nor for your Diocese, but for the great Missionary Program of the Church—that “every creature” may have an opportunity to become a member of the One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church..

May the Holy Ghost enlighten your hearts and minds, and according to the promise of our Blessed Lord, lead you into all truth, and by His indwelling make you temples of His glory.

Affectionately your Friend and Pastor,

PHILADELPHIA

Dear Parishoners:—

Next Sunday is the Feast of Pentecost when we commemorate the Descent of the Holy Spirit upon the waiting church on the first Whitsunday, transforming it into the Mystical Body of the Living and Glorified Christ. It is of this Body that we are members; it is in this Body that we live and move and have our being.

Pentecost is one of the Church's great days; it is one of our great days; so we must observe it formally and fully, by giving thanks to Almighty God for this Extension of the Incarnate Life of His Son in the Church, and that He has called us into its fellowship, making us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light.

We are preparing for this great festival by following our Lord's command and the example of His Blessed Mother, the Holy Apostles and the Disciples, in keeping a Novena of Prayer in anticipation of the fulfillment of the Father's promise. Add to this a good Confession, for a worthy Thanksgiving and Communion.

On Pentecost we make an Offering of Money for the Missionary Work of the Church. An envelope is enclosed for your contribution for the Church's mission and its part in establishing Christian Peace among the nations.

May the life and the light of the Holy Spirit be renewed in your souls through your devout participation in this momentous feast.

Affectionately in our Blessed Lord,

Franklin Jones—

Pastor.

MY DEAR FRIENDS:

Whitsunday is the Birthday of the Church. It is our custom to keep a family birthday with a party and with gifts. So in the family of the Parish we keep this auspicious Birthday, first with our Party at the Church's Altar. Here, carefully prepared, we make our Communions on Pentecost, and are renewed in the seven-fold out-pourings of the Holy Spirit. Then we bring our Gifts to the Church on this Birthday, our Presents for the Church's Missionary Program, for the spread of the Gospel and the Catholic Faith, in which we have been so richly blessed.

Canon Hood of Pusey House, Oxford University, will be the Preacher at the Solemn Mass on Sunday, June 5th. I hope to see you here early for your Communion, and also at the Solemn Mass, for this is our Mass of Thanksgiving, our special "Birthday Party!"

Affectionately in Our Blessed Lord,

Franklin Jomer. -

Pastor.
